Access to HE Diploma Background and Aims

The Access to Higher Education Diploma is a full Level 3 UK qualification. It is regulated by the Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA) which licenses Access Validating Agencies (AVAs) to accredit and award the Access to Higher Education Diploma in the UK.

Access to Higher Education Diplomas enable students to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to progress to higher education. They are key to widening participation from groups traditionally underrepresented at higher education institutions and are therefore aimed particularly, though not exclusively, at adults without traditional qualifications.

The aims of the Access to HE Diploma are to:

- prepare students who are returning to education for progression to Higher Education, further training in a related vocational or occupational area
- help students develop the skills and knowledge they need to achieve on their chosen HE course or career pathway
- familiarise students with the teaching and learning methodologies and assessment strategies found in Higher Education Institutions (HEIs)
- help students to gain confidence in their abilities, to review and monitor their own progress and to become independent students
- develop students' research, planning, analytical and evaluation skills
- enable students to make informed choices about future progression routes

Diploma development

Skills and Education Group Access has worked with curriculum specialists and higher education colleagues to develop the Access to HE Diploma (Psychology). Every Diploma is validated by the AVA through a robust and rigorous peer panel process which then recommends approval to the AVA's Access to HE Committee. By taking into consideration the views of Further and Higher Education practitioners, the AVA ensures that the Diploma meets all QAA requirements and that it enables students to complete a planned, balanced and coherent programme of study, through which they have been able to acquire a subject knowledge and develop academic skills which are relevant to the intended progression route(s).

LC 50a: This QAA recognised Access to HE Diploma is validated for delivery within the UK by a provider with a main base in the UK (including the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man) only.

LC 50c: Only students with a UK address (including BFO) can be registered for an Access to HE Diploma

Diploma and Credit Specification

The QAA Diploma and Credit Specification states that the Access to HE Diploma is a:

unitised qualification, based on units of assessment which are structured in accordance with the Access to HE unit specification

- credit-based qualification, operated in accordance with the terms of the Access to HE credit specification
- graded qualification, as determined by the Access to HE Grading Scheme.

- Insight into psychological disorders and mental health strategies

2. Biopsychology and Behaviour:

- Comprehension of the biological bases of behaviour, including brain function and the impact of drugs
- Knowledge of the interplay between biological systems and psychological processes

3. Counselling and Health Psychology:

- Understanding counselling theories and the application of practical helping skills
- Insight into health psychology perspectives and the impact of psychological factors on health and illness.

B. Subject-Specific Skills:1. Research and Analysis in Psychology:

- Skills in conducting psychological research and statistical analysis
- Knowledge of psychological profiling and its practical applications in fields like forensic psychology.

2. Counselling Techniques:

- Applying counselling and helping skills in various scenarios, as detailed in Practical Counselling and Helping Skills.
- Implementing therapeutic strategies to address psychological disorders.

3. Ethical and Safe Practices:

- Understanding the ethical use of technology in psychology
- Knowledge of professional and ethical standards in psychological practice.

C. Transferable Skills:1. Research and Academic Skills:

- Development of strong research and project management skills
- Proficiency in academic writing and critical reading, supported by Academic Writing Skills and Reading and Note Making.

2. Communication and Technology Skills:

- Enhanced presentation and communication skills
- Proficiency in the use of information and communication technology relevant to psychological research and practice.

3. Critical Thinking and Reflective Practice:

- Improved critical thinking and analytical abilities, particularly in understanding complex psychological and social issues.
- Emphasis on reflective practice to foster continuous personal and professional growth, illustrated in units like Reflective Practice.

Intended Progression Routes

LC 61a and 61b: Access to HE Diplomas are intended to provide a preparation for study in UK higher education, but the award of a Diploma does not provide guaranteed entry to UK higher education programmes.

The following progression routes were agreed at the point of validation as being appropriate choices for students who achieve the Access to HE Diploma (Psychology), subject to the course entry requirements and application process.

- BSc Psychology
- BSc Forensic Psychology
- BSc Psychology with Counselling
- BSs Psychology with Criminology
- BSc Psychology with Education
- BA Philosophy, Psychology and Scientific Thought.

It is essential that providers delivering this Diploma consult receiving HEIs themselves to ensure that suitable and relevant progression opportunities are sound. Evidence of HEI consultation and progression possibilities will be identified in the provider's Programme Submission Document.

Access to HE Diploma provider assessment strategy advice

QAA states that the Access to HE Diploma provides 'HE progression opportunities for adults who, because of social, educational or individual circumstances may have achieved few, if any, prior qualifications'. They also state that, 'Students who are awarded the Diploma will have completed a planned, balanced and coherent programme of study, through which they have been able to acquire subject knowledge and develop academic skills which are relevant to the intended progression route(s)'. Therefore all approved providers need to develop diploma assessment strategies which outline what assessment activities the students will undertake, how they will be used and why they have been chosen in order to achieve the learning aims:

1. What is the the aim of the diploma assessment strategy?
2. How will it be achieved?
3. Why has this approach been chosen?

Assessment design:

Access to HE Diplomas should be assessed using innovative and contemporaneous methods, tailored to prepare students studying at Level 3 for study at Higher Education. Assessment design should be holistic, ensuring students can demonstrate attained knowledge, skills and behaviours in and across units and assessments should reflect those likely to be encountered on Higher Education courses in the same field of study. Specific assessment guidance should be provided for each unit to ensure consistency and fairness across all student achievements.

In addition, providers must ensure that assessment methods are chosen which afford students opportunities to demonstrate the requirements of the three Grading Standards; Knowledge and Understanding, Subject Specific Skills and Transferable Skills.

Assessment design should comply with the requirements of the QAA Grading Scheme (2024) and also be aligned to the principles of assessment: Validity, Authenticity, Reliability, Currency and Sufficiency (VARCS).

LC 50g: Tutor/Assessor qualifications and experience specifically required for delivery and assessment of this diploma:

Generally, and as a minimum, it is expected that provider staff teaching on the Diploma have the required professional competence and skills necessary for the mode(s) of delivery to be used, and the level of subject expertise necessary to teach and assess the units available on the Diploma.

Rules of Combination

Where options are available within a single set of rules of combination, which allow alternative requirements for the achievement of a named Diploma, the alternatives permitted by the options are consistent, in terms of academic challenge and demand, and will require equivalent standards for achievement, whenever and wherever it is delivered.
